THE JOHN F. SLATER FUND

(Established 1882)

Proceedings and Reports
For Year Ending September 30, 1930

"On the 18th of May, 1882, Mr. Slater met the Board of Trustees in the city of New York and transferred to them the sum of one million dollars, a little more than half of it being already invested, and the remainder being cash to be invested at the discretion of the Board. On that occasion the Trustees addressed him a letter acknowledging his generosity, and they invited him always to attend their meetings; but he never met with them again, and declined to guide in any way their subsequent action. The gift of Mr. Slater was acknowledged by expressions of gratitude from every part of the country.

"The characteristics of this gift were its Christian spirit, its patriotism, its munificence, and its freedom from all secondary purposes, or hampering conditions. In broad and general terms, the donor indicated the object which he had in view; the details of management he left to others, confident that their collective wisdom and the experience they must acquire would devise better modes of procedure, as the years go on, than any individual could propose in advance."

From Memorial Sketch of John F. Slater, by Dr. Daniel C. Gilman, of Baltimore, then Secretary of the Board (1884).

Extracts from Report at Meeting of Trustees April 28, 1915.

The following extracts from the President's Report of fifteen years ago may be of present interest by way of comparison:

PRIVATE SCHOOLS.

From the first years of Negro education there have been many kinds of schools established, some by religious denominations of the North, some by Negro churches of the South, a few by white churches of the South, some by private associations or individuals. Most of the schools established with religious backing are still flourishing; many private efforts have gone to the wall, others are living a precarious existence. A few which have been able to acquire property and to establish an endowment fund are on a sound basis, but need constant aid from philanthropic individuals and associations. The small private schools, without backing and without endowment, dependent upon the annual begging tour of the principal, seem destined to die or to be turned over either to some religious body or to the public-school system.

In estimating the value and efficiency of the many Negro institutions, high and low, that have been established in various ways, opinions of inspectors and investigators will naturally differ. Each individual is likely to emphasize in his own mind this or that feature. There are four questions upon which all would probably agree. Is the school property kept in satisfactory conditions of cleanliness, repair, and sanitation? Are the accounts of receipts and expenditures kept in good shape and open to inspection? Is the work of teaching honestly conducted, that is, is the professed standard as thoroughly followed as can reasonably be expected? Does the atmosphere of the school give the impression of industry, alertness, and morality? In its thirty-three years of useful aid I believe that the resources of the Slater Fund have been distributed with careful regard to such questions as these.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

In recent years there has been a marked increase of cooperation with public school officials. This is a natural tendency arising from the increasing desire of these officials to improve Negro schools. One of the greatest immediate needs is for even fairly competent teachers in the small public schools. The Slater Fund has contributed much to the preparation of teachers, but in the past its contributions in this direction have been mainly to the larger and higher institutions. There is now great need for the preparation of teachers in a lower grade of advancement. The immediate conditions under which such work must be done may be far from ideal, but the effort faces facts as they are. It is a fact that a very large majority of the teachers in the small rural schools have got what they have of education and training in their own or a neighboring county, and many superintendents are showing much interest in the improvement of some central school in the county for the purpose of supplying a somewhat better grade of teachers.

This explains the origin of the so-called County Training Schools of which we have aided in making a beginning. In 1912 there were four, in 1914 eight, in 1915 seventeen. For the next session we propose to aid in about thirty, provided the reasonable conditions are fulfilled. These conditions, as previously approved, are that the school property shall belong to the State or county, thus fixing the school as a part of the public-school system; second, that there shall be an appropriation of at least $750 from the public funds for salaries; third, that the teaching shall be carried strictly and honestly through at least the eighth grade, with the intention of increasing the grades. Under these conditions the Slater Fund has agreed to appropriate $500 for salaries.

IMPROVEMENT.

All these instances of cooperation between the Fund and the Public Schools, which is the subject intended to be stressed in this report, are indications of a healthy sentiment. Looking over the field I find many indications which are encouraging for the betterment of conditions, and I think also, for the maintenance of good relationship between the races.

I find on the part of school officials, especially the State and County Superintendents, a decided increase of interest in behalf of better school facilities for Negroes. Counties are beginning to make appropriations for Negro schoolhouses,* and there are expressions of desire to lengthen the short school terms and to increase the poor pay of teachers. The States are making better appropriations for the Colored State Normal and Industrial Schools.† In the various denominational and private schools there

*At the time of writing this report the splendid Rosenwald aid in schoolhouse building had not begun.

†These have now been generally advanced to colleges, and many excellent and handsome buildings have been erected. The General Education Board and the Rosenwald Fund have in a number of inis gradual improvement in the genuineness of the course of studies and in carefulness of keeping accounts. Thus it is evident that in the matter of education there are signs of improvement both in the small public schools and in the higher institutions.

On the economic side as well as in education there are many evidences of improvement. For example, as I travel over the country I find Negro stores in many places, and wherever I have inquired I have found that these stores are patronized by white people as well as colored people. The white people of the South recognize the fact that the large majority of Negroes are sure to remain there, and unquestionably the best and most thoughtful of our people of both races desire the establishment and maintenance of relations based on fairness and justice.

stances aided in the erection of these buildings, but most of the expense has been met by appropriations from public funds.

Minutes

Eightieth Meeting, April 22, 1930

The 80th meeting of the Trustees of the John F. Slater Fund was held in the office of the General Education Board, New York City, at 3:30 p. m. on Tuesday, April 22, 1930.

Present: Messrs. Brown, Dillard, Glenn, Kelsey, Kirkland and Shaw.

Doctor Shaw presided.

The minutes of the meeting held on April 23, 1929, having been spread in full on the report of the Slater Fund for the year ending September 30, 1929, they were approved without being read.

Doctor Dillard then informed the Board that Messrs. Arnett, Bowie, Eggleston, Kearny and Wright had advised him that they would be unable to be present.

Mr. Charles S. Brown, Chairman of the Finance Committee, presented his report as well as that of the Treasurer, and, after a general discussion, the reports were adopted and ordered placed on file.

The following recommendations of the Education Committee covering appropriations for the year 1930-1931 were presented and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That for field work, session 1930-1931, the sum of $71,000 be appropriated from the regular income of the John F. Slater Fund and $19,000 from the income of the George Peabody Fund, if the income warrants, with the understanding that at least $40,000 be expended in support of the County Training Schools, and that any allocation of the balance of $50,000 be made with the approval of the Executive Committee.

The Board was informed of the death of Mr. Charles Scribner, which occurred on April 20th. Messrs. Shaw and Bowie were appointed to prepare a suitable resolution expressing the sorrow of the members of the Board and their sense of the serious loss sustained in the death of Mr. Scribner. He had been a member of the Board since 1914.

The Board then received the report of Doctor Dillard of the work that he and his associates had done, and of the general conditions as they found them in the south and southwest.

Doctor Dillard presented to the Board a statement showing how the appropriations for the year 1929-1930 had been disbursed.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:

Albert Shaw, Chairman; J. H. Dillard, President; Miss G. C. Mann, Secretary; Chatham Phenix National Bank and Trust Co., Treasurer.

The Chairman appointed the following standing committees:

Executive: John M. Glenn, Chairman; Albert Shaw, W. Russell Bowie, Warren Kearny, Trevor Arnett.

Education: J. H. Dillard, Chairman; J. H. Kirkland, Clarence H. Kelsey,* Joseph D. Eggleston, Arthur D. Wright.

Finance: Charles S. Brown, Chairman; Clarence H. Kelsey,* Trevor Arnett.

On motion duly seconded, the meeting then adjourned.

*Mr. Kelsey died on April 30, eight days after this meeting, in which he had taken active part. He had been a member of the Board since 1921.

Colleges

Notes

The following comparison shows the increased attendance of college students from 1922 to 1930 in twelve colleges situated in the Southern States. It does not include Hampton, Tuskegee, the State Colleges, and institutions like Howard, Lincoln, Morgan and Wilberforce, situated north of the Potomac River. All the colleges here mentioned have two hundred or more students in full college courses.

Colleges	1922	1930
Fisk	287	508

Knoxville	64	253
Clark	51	248
Morris Brown	88	229
Total.....	1321	4311

The following table in regard to the Freshman Class in each of these colleges is interesting in indicating the growth of attendance from Public High Schools, including County Training Schools which carry the full four-year High School grades.

Colleges	Total No. in Fresh- man Class	No. from Pri- vate and De- nominational Schools

Talladega	110	48
Knoxville	122	27
Clark	110	60
Morris Brown	75	45
Total.....	1487	398

It will be noticed that the two institutions having the largest number in the Freshman Class report the smallest number of students from private and denominational schools.

The following table has been compiled from reports made to the Slater Board for the session 1929-30:

County Training Schools

Beginning with the Session 1911-12, at the request of four County Superintendents, the Slater Fund aided in establishing County Training Schools in these four counties. There was evident need for at least one good Central Public School in each county. The plan almost immediately met with the approval of State and County Superintendents. Fuller information about these schools will be found in the Annual Reports of the John F. Slater Fund and in Occasional Papers, Nos. 14, 18 and 23.

Many of these Schools have now become four year High Schools. Another interesting fact is that many private and denominational schools have voluntarily, by arrangement with the county school authorities, become County Training Schools.

The progress in 15 years is shown by the following figures:

In 1915 there were 17 schools: 1 in Ala.; 2 in Ark.; 2 in Ga.; 1 in Ky.; 2 in La.; 1 in Miss.; 3 in N. C.; 1 in S. C.; 1 in Texas; and 3 in Va. These received for salaries $8,500 from the Slater Fund and $17,986 from public tax funds.

In 1929-30 there were 384 in 13 states. The amount contributed through the Slater Fund (largely aided by the General Education Board) for salaries and equipment was $130,508, while public tax funds spent $2,358,565. The total expenditure in the 384 County Training Schools in 1929-30, including contributions from the Smith-Hughes Fund, the Rosenwald Fund and various local sources, was $2,751,758.

The Slater appropriations are made only for aid in paying salaries.

The figure accompanying the name of the county shows the number of years the school has been on the list.
